Travers is the amateur golf champion of the United States. He defeated John G. Anderson, of Boston, 5 up and 4 to play in the thirty-six-hole final round at Garden City to-day, and was once more acclaimed the best golfer of which America can boast.

Back in 1907 Travers won his first championship on the course of the Euclid Club, Cleveland. The following year, he successfully defended his ing year, he successfully defended his title in Garden City. Just a year ago he won for the third time, at the Chicago Golf Club, and to-day, back at Garden City, he was again successful. Walter J. Travis won the championship three times. Travers is the first to gain four victories.

It was a splendid match to-day, Anderson putting up a steady fight throughout the long morning round, for a time leading his great opponent by two holes. A brilliant flash of the for a time leading his great opponent by two holes. A brilliant flash of the form for which Travers is famous won back the two holes on the outward journey, and at the seventeenth hole the champion went into the lead, only to drop back to even terms when he exploded the deep trap beside the home green.

It was all squared when the first round was over.

Just one bad hole, the first, fell to the champion's lot in the afternoon. From that on his golf was perfect, gaining every hole until the end came on the fourteenth green. It was early the same story on the seventeenth, and Anderson made a par. The cards:

Manager Griffin yesterday announced the release of Catcher Lusky and Pitcher Klingenhoffer. This leaves him with Pitchers Smallwood, Sanford, Smith and Ray. Harry Griffin was allowed to go to Fork Union Academy, where he will coach the feotball team of that school.

Both Mace and Rogers have entirely recovered from their injuries, which furnishes the reason for Lusky's release. Pitcher Sanford, though he did not show to such good advantage yesterday, is highly regarded. He is a spitball pitcher, and was just off the train when he started to work, which may have had something to do with his wildness. Second Baseman Davis has also been turned loose, which means that Charlie Strain will finish the geason at that post.

Manager Griffin, by working Ayers in the first game yesteday, disappointed some of the fans, but he was anxious to win, and the big fellow wanted to leave the park to attend to some personal business before leaving.

Stanley Bigbie made a double play unassisted yesterday at Byrd Park in the Grays-Tyler's game, and so neat did Stanley pull it that it took some time for the umpire to give him. did Stanley pull it that it took some time for the umpire to give his decision. With a man on first, Stanley trapped a fly ball batted by Gentry and touched first base, putting Gentry out, then tagging the man on first. Very simple, isn't it? Yet it takes a heady man to work it.

The Woodall & Quarles team will team next Saturday at Byrd Park. The game will be called at 4:30 o'clock. A good, crowd is expected to be out, as both of these clubs are evenly matched.
